Code of Conduct

All Valor Hall Academy students should read and be aware of the following rules of behavior:

1. Courtesy is not optional. This means that you are expected to behave courteously in all situations. Courtesy in kindness and thoughtfulness to others, not just a false show of manners.
We are following the Golden Rule: "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." Do not make fun of those less fortunate than you or of those who believe differently than you do.
2. The school is a non-sectarian Christian school. It is expected that students will behave like true Christians and have mutual respect for differing religious views.
3. Keep your hands to yourself. This means no pushing, crowding, fighting or kicking...even in fun. The one who hits first is at fault because he lost control of himself. If you tease another student to make him lose control and strike you, then you are at fault and will be held responsible.
4. Bad language will not be tolerated and after the first warning, you may be either suspended or expelled from school.
5. Mind your own business. Tattling undermines your own character. Report to the teachers, (in private) only those incidents which concern you personally, involve destruction of property or are against the school rules.
6. Always play fair.
7. Think before you speak. Do not waste other student's time with gossip, foolish talk or rude comments.
8. If you raise your hand while the teacher is giving instructions or presenting a lesson, you are demanding that the teacher stop and listen to you. If you have a question, or comment, wait for a pause in the lesson or for a time when the teacher asks for contributions.
9. Toys, funny erasers, magic markers, mechanical pencils, electronic games, etc. may not be brought to school without permission.
10. Gum is not allowed at school either in the mouth, pockets, purses, book bags or as part of your lunch.
11. Hi is the way you would greet your friends. When you meet an adult it is best to say, "Good morning" or "Good afternoon." It is expected that students will show respect for their elders by: The appropriate greeting; excusing themselves whenever crossing in front of them; opening the door and allowing adults to go through first; offering assistance whenever possible.
12. In your classroom the closets and cupboards are for the use by the teacher. The teacher's desk is OFF LIMITS. Never handle items on the desk or get into the desk drawers at any time.

13. Never copy other student's school work or homework. NEVER CHEAT. DO YOUR BEST.
14. When you are on the playground and hear a whistle, STOP what you are doing immediately and "freeze" as you look toward the teacher who blew the whistle and listen for instructions.
15. The classroom is your special place. It is every student's responsibility to help keep it neat and clean. Each student should: keep his/her desk tidy, clean the top of the desk weekly, keep the floor around his/her area picked up, return books and other equipment to their proper place, not expect others to pick up after him/her.
16. The class pencil sharpener is off limits during lessons. Sharpen pencils before or after school and be sure that you have 1 or 2 sharp pencils ready for use each morning.
17. Respond to a question by saying "Yes" or "No". Never respond with "nope" or "yea."
18. The field trip van is an extension of the classroom. All rules of good conduct still apply.
19. The office telephone may only be used in emergencies. Forgetting lunch, homework or show and tell are not emergencies. Be responsible for yourself and your belongings and accept the consequences of forgetfulness.
20. Remember to SMILE. Your life at Valor Hall Academy should be joyous and happy. Students who strive to do their best each day are rewarded by increasing confidence in themselves and their ability to be prepared for life.

"School is the door to knowledge but the pupil must turn the key."
